

“NoWords”

| Dalila Brooks |

Bio

Spicy and colorfully rich with expression, Dalila Brooks, known as “NoWords” has developed a spoken word performance offering viewers a deeply expressive body of work that explores topics of femininity, relationships and life from a woman’s perspective.

Her in-depth lyrical content brings synchronization with words and rhythm, leaving audiences fueled with hope and realism.

Her love for the written word and theatrical production assisted her by extending platforms for her personal expressions in front of audiences around the East Coast before starting her own feature series called, “LUV is Cool Presents” where she fuses movement, sound and drama to her performance art production called, Green Grass.
